Policies

Because Sprouts classes contain very young children, Sprouts have different policies than our regular classes and ensembles.

- Parents are expected to model participation, enthusiasm, and positivity for their children during classes. It is completely normal for young students to have varying levels of participation. We recognize and emphasize that children will follow the lead of their 'grown-up' in class, and their level of participation will increase over time with comfort, understanding, and positive modeling.

- Behaviors that are disruptive to the class need to be handled by the attending parent. Parents are asked to avoid interrupting the teacher and the momentum of the class whenever possible – quietly removing a disruptive child is perfectly fine. Just re-enter the class when you are able!

Refund Policy

There will be no refunds after the first day of class. Logistically, admitting students from the waiting list is a huge effort for our volunteer staff.
Prior to the first day of the term, we will refund tuition except for the $50 registration deposit.
